Plaintiff Below-	§
Appellee.	§

Submitted: August 31, 2010
Decided: September 23, 2010

Before BERGER, JACOBS, and RIDGELY, Justices.

ORDER

This 23rd day of September 2010, upon consideration of the appellant's Supreme Court Rule 26(c) brief, his attorney's motion to withdraw, and the State's response thereto, it appears to the Court that:

(1) A Superior Court jury found the defendant-appellant, Hakeem Hammond, guilty of one count each of possession of a firearm by a person prohibited and resisting arrest. The Superior Court sentenced Hammond to three years and six months at Level V incarceration, to be suspended after serving 45 days in prison for eighteen months at decreasing levels of supervision. This is Hammond's direct appeal.

(2) Hammond's counsel on appeal has filed a brief and a motion to withdraw pursuant to Rule 26(c). Hammond's counsel asserts that, based upon a complete and careful examination of the record, there are no arguably appealable issues. By letter, Hammond's attorney informed him of the provisions of Rule 26(c) and provided Hammond with a copy of the motion to withdraw and the accompanying brief. Hammond also was informed of his right to supplement his attorney's presentation. Hammond has not raised any issues for this Court's consideration. The State has responded to the position taken by Hammond's counsel and has moved to affirm the Superior Court's judgment.

(3) The standard and scope of review applicable to the consideration of a motion to withdraw and an accompanying brief under Rule 26(c) is twofold: (a) this Court must be satisfied that defense counsel has made a conscientious examination of the record and the law for arguable claims; and (b) this Court must conduct its own review of the record and determine whether the appeal is so totally devoid of at least arguably appealable issues that it can be decided without an adversary presentation.*

(4) This Court has reviewed the record carefully and has concluded that Hammond's appeal is wholly without merit and devoid of any arguably appealable issue. We also are satisfied that Hammond's counsel has made a conscientious effort to examine the record and the law and has properly determined that Hammond could not raise a meritorious claim in this appeal.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the State's motion to affirm is GRANTED. The judgment of the Superior Court is AFFIRMED. The motion to withdraw is moot.
